

ABSTRACT SUBMISSION FAQs
ASBMR 2023 Annual Meeting
Abstract Submission Deadline: Wednesday, May 10, 2023, 11:59 pm EDT

1. What is my user name and password?

For ASBMR members, it is your member login and password. If you are a nonmember or non-registered user of the ASBMR website, you will need to create a new account by clicking “create new account” on the homepage of the ASBMR Abstract Center. If you have forgotten your password, click on “forgot your password” on the login page and follow the instructions. If you are unable to create a new account with your email address, you may already have an existing account in ASBMR’s database. Contact ASBMR offices at asbmr@asbmr.org to verify.

2. What is the submission fee?

The submission fee is $70 per abstract for all submitters. You may pay with Visa, MasterCard, or AMEX. The abstract submission fee is non-refundable. If you need to pay using a different mechanism, please contact the ASBMR Business Office at +1 (202) 367-1161.

3. Do I need a sponsor for my abstract?

Yes. ASBMR policy requires that each abstract be sponsored by a current member of the ASBMR. Members may sponsor only one abstract, including their own. Current members in the following categories may sponsor their own abstracts: In-Training, APDEM, Full and Discounted.

4. What if I do not have a sponsor for the abstract?

You or another co-author will need to join the ASBMR. For information on how to apply for membership, visit the ASBMR website at www.asbmr.org and click on “Join ASBMR” at the bottom right corner.

5. I just submitted an application for membership. May I sponsor my own abstract?

Yes. Once you have submitted your payment, your ASBMR membership will be active, and you will be able to sponsor your own abstract. If you have not submitted an application for membership and are interested in becoming an ASBMR member, please contact asbmr@asbmr.org and ASBMR staff will assist you concerning this request. Current members in the following categories may sponsor their own abstracts: In-Training, APDEM, Full, and Discounted.

6. Can I be the primary author on more than one abstract?

Yes. You may be the primary and/or co-author on an unlimited number of abstracts.

7. Both of my abstracts were selected to be oral presentations at the meeting, can I present them both?

Yes. You can have more than one oral presentation, but the Program Committee may decide to limit the number of orals above two.

8. My colleague’s abstract was picked to be an oral presentation, but he cannot speak English very well. Can he still try to present?

No. The presenting author must be fluent in English. If none of the authors are fluent in English, you need to select “Poster Only” from the drop down menu in the “Additional Information” section in the Abstract Center.

9. I have submitted my abstract as a manuscript to another Journal. Can I still submit my abstract to ASBMR?

Yes. If your abstract will be published online or in print prior to Wednesday, May 10, 2023, you may still submit the abstract for presentation; however, you must check “Poster Only” in the “Additional Information” section in the Abstract Center.

10. I have submitted my research to a Preprint Server, can it be submitted as an abstract for the ASBMR Annual Meeting?

Yes, at the time of abstract submission, the manuscript should not have been previously published verbatim as a scientific article or meeting abstract, however, interim research products, including manuscripts deposited to a preprint server, are eligible for abstract submission.

11. I am working on a clinical trial and my data will be available by the Annual Meeting but it will not be available by the abstract submission deadline. Can I still submit my abstract?

Yes, abstracts on initiated trials will be accepted and considered for oral or poster presentation at the Annual Meeting. The abstract submission should detail the trial design and rationale, inclusion criteria, primary clinical endpoints, and any available preliminary data.

12. How do I submit my abstract to the ASBMR Symposium on Osteocytes, “Osteocytes in Bone Health and Disease and as Therapeutic Target Cells”

Abstracts submitted to the Annual Meeting will also be considered for poster presentation at this 1-day symposium. To be considered for poster presentation at this 1-day symposium, select the box indicating your willingness in Step 2. The symposium will be held on Thursday, October 12, 1 day prior to the ASBMR 2023 Annual Meeting.

13. I presented my abstract at another meeting. May I still submit the abstract to ASBMR?

Yes. However, the following guidelines apply to previously presented abstracts:

- a) Abstracts presented orally or as a poster at a prior ASBMR meeting may not be submitted for either poster or oral presentation.
- b) Abstracts that have received wide exposure may not be submitted for an oral presentation at an ASBMR meeting and should be marked "Poster Only" upon submission.

Wide exposure is defined as an abstract presentation (poster or oral) at major U.S. and international meetings. Previously presented abstracts (poster or oral) still qualify for oral presentation at the ASBMR Annual Meeting if they were presented at focused workshops and symposia such as: Gordon Conferences, Advances in Mineral Metabolism, ASBMR Topical Meetings, and Keystone Symposia.

14. What does the 2500 character limit for my abstract include?

This includes all letters and spaces within the text of your abstract. Tables and graphics are not included in the character limit.

15. How do I upload my table if it is not an image file?

You must copy and paste your table into the Paint program (or another image program) on your computer and save it as a .jpg, .jpeg, .png, or .gif file.

16. How do I change the order of the authors listed on the abstract?

You may change the order of the authors by clicking on the area to the right of the author's name (where the cursor becomes two crossed arrows () and dragging the name up or down into the preferred sequence.

Please direct any additional questions regarding your abstract submission to the ASBMR at +1 (202) 367-1161 or abstracts@asbmr.org.
